Sale at the Farm.

Either the cold weather or lack of interest in the stock to be offered, helped to make the sale of purebred animals at the Demonstration Farm on Tuesday somewhat of a disappointment. When a 1500-lb. mare was trotted into the ring, a bid of $20. was made, and the animal was not sold. The two imported auctioneers worked hard enough, but failed to draw results.

Accident to an Auto.

While Mr. M. Treit of Spruce Grove was taking a party of friends to the City on Saturday evening, he ran up on a buggy in the smoke, and in trying to avoid a collision, his car took to the ditch, nose first, leaving the poop deck up in the air.

After the smoke and remarks had subsided a little it was discovered that none of the occupants were seriously damaged.

Two Interesting Items.

Legal authorities at the Ontario parliament buildings confirm an announcement made by the collector of inland revenue that it is legal for a citizen, upon notifying the department, to brew beer upon his own premises. It was stated that there is nothing in the Inland Revenue act, the Ontario Temperance act or the Scott act to prohibit the manufacture of beer for home consumption.

Friday's Edmonton Journal says: "A representative group of Alberta brewers waited on Attorney-General Brodeur Thursday with a request that the Alberta Liquor Act be altered to permit the sale of beer and light wines, similar to Quebec. They were told by the Government that the framing of a definite policy on the Act was now under consideration."

When Doctors Disagree

Returns sent in to the Attorney General show that the doctors of the Province may be roughly divided into two classes; those who issue nearly all the prescriptions allowed them in a month, and who issue very few, says the Edmonton Bulletin. There are doctors who take the view that they are supposed to give a prescription to a person who is really sick and needs the stimulating effect of alcohol. There are other doctors who take it that a good healthy thirst is affliction enough to warrant them in giving the victim an order on the drug store.

"A Serious Disease."

A man blew into Westlock 100 Sunday last with a fine team and harness, a democrat with two new wheels on it, a range, some furniture, and a provision of feed. He has a homestead sixty miles northwest all proved up. He got discouraged by the trip from Edmonton and fairly gave away the whole outfit and started back for Kamour. He should have gone on, says the Witness, for there are a great many more people there than the man knew of. Cold feet is a serious disease.

The Federal Elections

It is a commonplace in all election campaigns for speakers to declare that that particular election contest is the most vitally important one ever held in the history of the country. To some extent, perhaps, such a statement is correct, because, as time passes and a country grows in population and wealth, coupled with the onward march of education, science and invention, national issues and problems become greater and more complex, and naturally more is at stake in reaching a right or wrong decision than was the case in years past when we lived in other and less treacherous times.

In one respect at least such a declaration this year has a weight and meaning that ordinarily does not attach to it. Usually the people of Canada are given an opportunity of passing judgment upon the men who administer their domestic affairs, and recording their verdict on domestic questions, every four or five years. It is, however, ten years since the people of this Dominion had an opportunity to make their wishes known in regard to policies having a direct bearing on questions of domestic concern.

In the last general election in Canada domestic questions were not up for consideration, and they played but a small part with the electors in the marking of the ballots. The issue in 1917 was a war issue. It occupied the minds and hearts of the people to the exclusion of everything else. It eliminated old party lines and broke party alliances extending over generations. Tariffs, financial administration, domestic problems of all kinds were thrown, temporarily at least, into the discard. The issue in the minds of the people, practically to the exclusion of everything else, was whether the Military Service Act should stand or fall.

Thousands of Conservatives who in 1917 voted for Liberals and Liberal-Unionists, and thousands of Liberals who voted for Conservatives and Conservative-Unionists, and in so doing showed their party views, confidently expected that, as soon as the war was over, they would be given an early opportunity to express their views on purely domestic questions. Three years have passed since the signing of the Armistice, and the long waited opportunity has now come. For the first time since the Republic of 1911, the people of Canada will, on December 6th next, declare their will in regard to matters of policy and administration affecting purely domestic affairs. No question of war, or Empire, or foreign policy is involved in the present contest. The issue can be decided with an eye and mind single to the individual voter's conception of what is best for Canada in a purely domestic sense.

During the decade that has elapsed many things have transpired which cannot have failed to broaden the vision of the people of Canada. The war itself, and the after-effects of that great struggle, have left an indelible mark. In 1911 men only enjoyed the right of the franchise; on December 6 women will go to the polls and cast their ballots on a basis of full equality in all citizenship with men. Questions vitally affecting the material welfare of the Dominion are to be decided, but there has arisen a new conception of the duty of government towards the social and moral well-being of the people who in themselves constitute the nation.

In 1911 deaths were cast, unjustly so, on the loyalty of many Canadians over what was, after all, solely a domestic question. But the war settled all doubts as to the loyalty of the people of this Dominion. They proved themselves Canadian and British both in the East and the West. The war settled the loyalty cry forever, thereby rendering a great service to this country, and any man who tries to resuscitate it will prove himself a traitor to Canada and a mighty poor politician.

For these reasons alone it is well within the bounds of truth to say that the approaching election day is a most momentous one in the history of the country, and probably the most important since the dawn of Confederation. It presents an opportunity for the exercise of good citizenship for which all Canadians have been eagerly waiting. Old hard and fast party lines have been shattered, whether for good or ill time alone can tell. New ideas in governmental forms and methods are prevalent; the franchise has been broadened to its utmost limits; new party leaders are directing affairs; a new national conscience has been awakened.

It, therefore, behooves every man and every woman not only to exercise the right of their great national birthright—the marking of a free ballot—but to perform that act only after the most careful study of national problems and with intelligence and an eye single to the welfare of Canada. The popularity or personality of the individual candidate is one thing, but the voter cannot wisely be guided by that alone; he or she must take a bigger, broader look ahead and consider opposing policies in the light of present-day conditions and needs and the prospective requirements of the Dominion. Old party enthusiasms have waned, but let there be a new, greater and better enthusiasm on election day—an enthusiasm for Canada itself.

V.C. Awarded to American Soldier

Unknown Warrior First Non-Britisher to Receive Decoration

The Victoria Cross, Britain's most prized war decoration, never before placed on the breast of a man not a British subject, was bestowed upon the unknown American soldier buried in Washington.

Earl Beatty, admiral of the fleet, placed it on the flag, and saluted as he stepped back. Then, General the Earl of Cavan, representing the King in person, spoke briefly of the services this humble soldier had rendered not only to the United States, but the world, there in France.

Marshal Foch, of France, stepped forward, and with every show of feeling, placed above the quiet breast the Medaille Militaire and the Croix de Guerre. He cited this dead soldier for valor, speaking in French, uttered, and turned away to let General Diaz bring forward and pin in place Italy's gold medal for bravery.

New Canal Needed

Panama Will Soon Be Too Small for World's Commerce

It is proposed that the American continent should be cut through again. The present Panama Canal is used by an ever-increasing number of ships, and all the authorities are agreed that in fifteen years' time it will be quite inadequate for the world's commerce. There is a possibility that instead of making a second canal at Panama, the Nicaraguan route may be followed. This was the original plan of the Americans before they took over the French works at Panama, and as far back as 1824 a survey was undertaken there on behalf of a British company. Owing to climatic causes ships would have to spend 40 hours more on the Nicaraguan route than by way of Panama, but against this the distance to San Francisco and New York ends of the Nicaraguan Canal would be 500 miles shorter than from the ends of the Panama Canal.

KEEP HEALTHY

DURING WINTER

Colds and Diseases May be Avoided if the Blood is kept Pure

Do not let your blood get thin this winter. For people who have a tendency towards anemia, or bloodless, nervous, winter ailments, a little daily exercise and fresh air, and the more restricted diet; are among the many things that combine to lower the tone of the body and deplete the blood.

As soon as you notice the tired feeling, lack of appetite and shortness of breath that are warning symptoms of thin blood, take a short course of treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Do not wait until the color has entirely left your cheeks, until your lips are white and your eyes dull. It is so much easier to correct thinness of blood in its earlier stages than later. This is well illustrated in the case of Mrs. E. Williams, Elk Lake, who says:—"I take great pleasure in letting you know the benefit I have found in the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I was in an anemic condition, and was very weak and run down. The least exertion would leave me breathless and it was with difficulty that I did household work. I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and after the use of four boxes I felt like a new person. In fact my system seemed filled with new energy and new life. I strongly recommend this medicine to all who feel weak, or run down."

The purpose of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is to build up the blood. They do this one thing and they do it well. They are for this reason an invaluable remedy in diseases arising from bad or deficient blood, such as rheumatism, neuritis, after-effects of the grip or other. The pills are guaranteed to be free from opiates or any harmful drug and cannot injure the most delicate system.

You can procure Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine, or they will be sent you by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing direct to The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Regina Man Thinks He Would Be Selfish Not To Relate Experience

"When a man has been benefited by a medicine like I have been by Tanlac I think it would be selfish of him not to come out and tell what he knows," said Aleck G. Munro, 1261 McTavish street, Regina, Sask.

"I haven't words to describe what I went through with on account of indigestion. No matter how careful I was about what I ate or how little I ate, I was sure to be blasted up with gas afterwards. Sometimes my breath would be cut off so I could scarcely breathe. I actually got to the point where I dreaded to go to the table, and I shudder now when I think of how I suffered. "I feel like a new man now, though, thanks to Tanlac. Actually this medicine has done me more good than I ever dreamed was possible. I never have any trouble from indigestion now, although I have a splendid appetite. I sleep all night long without waking once, and get up in the morning feeling fine and I work better than I have in years. I certainly advise people who suffer as I did to take Tanlac. I am confident it will help them."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists and general merchants everywhere.

The Too-Anxious Mother

A certain Irish Member of Parliament, popular both as a politician and as a housewife, has been very polite to the daughter of the house where he was visiting. When the time came for him to go, the too-anxious mamma called him in for a serious talk. "You sure I don't know what to say?" she went on. "I reported all around that you are a married man." "Just say that she refused me," quietly advised the parliamentarian.

Many residents of the prairie provinces will be planning to spend Christmas and New Year's with the old folks back East. These tickets will be sold from December 1st, 1921, to January 15th, 1922, to all points in Eastern Canada, and will be good to return within three months from date of issue. Get in touch with any Canadian National Railway Agent, who will supply any information and assistance in planning your trip.

Long Life Secret

Physiology and not medicine was given as the secret of longevity by Dr. A. H. Warner, of New York, in an address to the Allied Medical Association of America. Because the Bible says that a life shall be three score years and ten people expect to die when they reach that age, declared Dr. Warner. Given a sound constitution and a clean record, there is no reason why a man or woman should not reach 150 years. It is simply a matter of psychology and good living.

Minard's Liniment Co., Ltd. Gentlemen:—I have used Minard's Liniment and have found it a good remedy. After the operation I was pretty well shaken up, having cut a number of ligaments and cut, but thanks to Minard's Liniment I am now all right again. It healed the sore and bruised and gave me much relief. It is true it is a little painful, but for it to stop the pain almost at once. I first noticed it in my Montreal Standard and decided to try it, for which I am not sorry, but I have used it so much that I don't feel it is worth the trouble it claimed to do in my case much more, and a satisfied customer is the best ad. one can possibly find. That is my view of it and I think you will agree with me.

Yours very truly,

Silence?

"The reading lesson had begun, and it was Tommy's turn to read aloud. He came to the sentence, 'Silence reigned in the house.' 'Now,' said the teacher, 'can you tell me what silence it?' Writs for the Provincial bye-elections were issued last week. Nominations take place Friday, Dec. 2, and the election Friday, Dec. 9.

The seven Ministers affected and their Constituencies are:

Ponoka—Hon. J. E. Brownlee, Attorney General.

Premier Greenfield, probably Peace River.

Editor Horton's Comeback.

When the Provincial election campaign was in progress last summer, says The Vegreville Observer, a favorite topic of several of the U. F. A. speakers was the price of wheat and oats. Well, we have had a Farmer Government at Edmonton for some months now, and we call you people to witness that ever since that Government came into power the price of grain has been on the toboggan. No one knows better than we that the Edmonton Government has no more control over these matters than it has over the tides of the ocean or the phases of the moon, but we are just casually mentioning this matter in view of the strong line of bull likely to be spattered over the electors during the next two weeks.

As Another Editor Sees It.

A correspondent draws attention to several defects in the editorial column of this paper (says The Fort Saskatchewan Conservator) and in particular states that we are not giving the Farmers a square deal. Possibly we have become so "set" in our opinions along certain lines that it is difficult to change them. Our attitude towards the Farmers' Party has been prompted practically altogether by two ideas—First, we do not agree with the class or group idea in politics; and, second, see no object in the formation of what is simply a new party with ends in view which in our opinion are after all very little different from those of the Liberal Party.

Rural Voters, Note This

Directions from Revising Officer Grant say: A Rural Poll elector whose name is not on the List may nevertheless vote if on election day he swears and brings a neighbor whose name is on the list who swears that such elector is entitled to vote.

A Party for Everybody.

If the Agrarian party, why not other parties? The farmers have set the ball rolling. Should they succeed, other groups might easily have a similar ambition. Someone suggests the following as Canada's 13:

- Farmers' party.
- Retailers' party.
- Wholesalers' party.
- Lawyers' party.
- Ductors' party.
- Preachers' party.
- Lumbermen's party.
- Fishermen's party.
- Insurance party.
- Bankers' party.
- Mothers' party.

Miner Killed by Cave-in.

After being entombed for more than three days as a result of a cave in at the Mountain Park Coal Mine, the dead body of P. Chernuk was found by the rescue party Thursday night.

Chernuk, who was a Russian 33 years of age, was working on Monday as usual when the cave in occurred entombing him.

He was given no chance to escape and it is the presumption of the rescue party that he died of asphyxiation shortly after the accident.

The Poor Southerners.

The figures quoted below in regard to the cost per acre to produce a crop, were handed to The Stately Advertiser by Mr. Jas. H. Oliver, a well-known resident of that district.

Plowing $4; harrowing behind drill 50c; drilling 11c; seed $1.60; harrowing 25c; cutting $1.50; stocking 50c; twine 20c; threshing 75c; hauling 15c; making a total of $10.45 per acre.

Mr. Oliver further says: "Taking the average of the crop for the southern part of Alberta, which is only five bushels per acre, and figuring wheat at 80c per bushel would only be $4 per acre, how can the farmer be expected to make any money for himself, let alone pay off his indebtedness, which must necessarily be paid for at the end of the harvest?"

The Homesteaders

The boy stood helpless in this conflict. He had always thought of difficulties arising between people, between neighbours, friends, or members of a family because one party was right and the other wrong. It was his first experience of those far more strategic quarrels where both parties are right, or seem to be right. He knew something of the depth of the nature of his parents, and he knew that beneath an unobtrusive exterior they cherished in secret a love proportionate to the strength of their characters. But the long course down which they had walked together seemed now to be separating, through neither will nor power of their own. It was as though straight, parallel lines suddenly turned apart, and neither lost its straightness in the turning.

So he comforted his mother with such words as he could find in his father forbade laying any of the blame on those shoulders, and to blame his mother was unthinkable; and with unconscious wisdom he spoke not of blame at all. Presently it occurred to him to think of his mother's departure as temporary only, and with joy he found that she readily accepted the notion.

"Of course, while we are away, why shouldn't you have a visit?" he said. "Here you have been chained down to this farm ever since I can remember."

Liver Pains

Pains under the shoulder blades tell of liver derangements. Other indications are sallowness, indigestion, constipation, biliousness and bilious headaches.

The quickest way to arouse the liver to healthful action is by use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Continued use will insure lasting relief, correct the whole digestive system and purify the blood.

Mr. Wm. Barten, Hanover, Ont., writes:

"For some time I suffered from liver trouble. There was a hard, bearing-down feeling in my back which I could not get rid of. Some one advised me to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I did so, and found them excellent. The distressing feeling in my back disappeared and I felt much benefited generally. I have great confidence in Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and always keep them on hand for general use."

ber, and before. We can easily enough arrange about the cows; and Bill can board with one of the neighbours, or batch, and you can have a good trip and a good rest, and nobody need be more. And then, when I get settled on my own homestead, you'll come and keep house for me, won't you?"

"You're sure you'll want me?" she asked, greatly comforted by his mood. "Perhaps you'll be getting your own housekeeper, too?"

"Not while I can have you," he answered. "You're a splendid housekeeper, aren't you? Nothing that has happened, or can happen, will keep you from making the light on my path, will it? And when Dad gets settled again, and gets all these worries off his mind, then things'll be different, and you'll come, even if he is there?"

"Yes, I'll come, even if he is there. A light rain came up, and he accepted the excuse to sleep at Riles'.

The truth was, he feared for his resolution if it should be attacked by both of his wife and son. Surrender now would be mere weakness, and weakness was disgrace, and yet he feared for himself if he put it to the test again. So he stayed at Riles', and the two farmers spent much of the night over their plans. It had been decided that they were to leave within the next couple of days, and Riles broke the news that his wife was going on a visit, and that arrangements would have to be made for the care of the farm. He carefully concealed the fact that Mary was leaving against his will, and he was not at all sure that he would have found ready means to suppress any such foolishness.

Riles took the suggestion of a few days' delay with poor grace.

"Yes, an' while you're chasing up an' down the homestead, the Yankees get all the homesteads. They're comin' in right now by the trainload, grabbin' up everything in sight. We monkey round here till the summer's over, an' then go out an' get a sand farm, or something like that. Couldn't your wife do her visitin' no other time?"

"I'll tell you, Riles," said Harris, who had no desire to pursue a topic which might lead him into deep water. "You go ahead and get the day of the land, and I'll follow you within a week. I'll do that, for sure, and I'll stand part of the expenses for going ahead, seein' you will be kind o' representin' me."

The last touch was a stroke of diplomacy. The suggestion that Harris should pay part of his expenses eased Mary's mind. She had no objection to agreed to go on the date originally planned, and get what he called "a bed on the easy money" while he completed his arrangements at Riles'.

He was to get "a bed on the easy money" in a manner which Harris little expected.

When Harris returned home the next forenoon he found that Mary had already left for Plainville. He sat down and tried to think, but the view was very quiet, and the silence oppressed him. He looked at his watch, and concluded he had still time to reach Plainville before the train would leave, but that would mean surrender, and surrender meant weakness.

CHAPTER XII.

A Whiff of New Atmosphere

Riles found the journey westward a dreumose affair. His was a soul devoid of enthusiasm over Nature's wealth or magnitude, and the view of the endless prairie excited in him no emotion other than a certain vague consciousness. It was his first long rail journey in over twenty years, but his thoughts were on the cost of travel rather than on the wonderful strides which had been made in his comfort and convenience. Riles indulged in no such luxuries as sleeping-car berths or meals served in the diner, and two nights in a crowded day coach, with such hasty meals as could be bought for a quarter at wayside stations, made the journey a somewhat exhausting one. Back in the observation car, sleek commercial travellers, well groomed and well dressed and enveloped in comfortable self-satisfaction, gravely discussed politics, business and real estate, or exchanged the latest tidbits of wit accumulated in their travels. Riles probably could have bought had paid for the worldly possessions of the whole group, and have still a comfortable balance in the bank. But a sleeper berth cost the price of two bushels of wheat, and even in a good year Riles' crop seldom exceeded ten thousand bushels.

An fate would have it, Riles selected as the base of his homestead operations the very foothill town to which Beniah Harris had come a few weeks before. He sought out the cheapest hotel, and having thrown his few belongings on the bed, betook himself to the barroom, which seemed the chief centre of activity, not only of the hotel itself, but of the little town. Men were lined three deep against the capacious bar, shouting, swearing and singing, and spending their money with an abandon not to be found in millions. Riles was no great student of human nature; he had a keen eye for a horse than a fellow man, but the motley crowd interested and, in a certain way, amused him. Land-neekers, some in overalls and flannel shirts, some in ready-made with dirty celluloid collars and cheap, gaudy ties

ARE YOU A MOTHER?

Health Is Your Most Valuable Asset.
Here Is How To Take Proper Care of It

Hamilton, Ont.—"I was advised by a practical nurse to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as a tonic for my blood. I am now four years old, and I am in perfect health and I have had practically no suffering. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has done for other mothers the mother but I am positive the child is benefited, too. I would not hesitate to recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to every expectant mother."—Mrs. C. Spike, 48 Hess St., N.Y.

London, Ont.—"I take great pleasure in recommending Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I received great benefit from its use. I have always been in frail and delicate health. I married late in life and I was in my fortieth year before becoming a mother. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription carried me safely through. My lovely little girl is now four years old, and I am in perfect health. I take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription when I feel the least bit weak or rundown and it always builds me up."—Mrs. J. G. Baldry, 237 Clarence St.

"What Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has done for other mothers, it will do for you. Get it this very day from your neighborhood druggist in either liquid or tablet form, and write Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for free confidential medical advice or for a copy of Dr. Pierce's Laboratory, Bridgeburg, Out., for trial packages.

—big, powerful men with the muscles and manners of the horse—and others, thin, nervous, and delicate, made an easier and better living by the employment of their brains; cowboys to the north, and ranchmen to the south; chiefs; ranches, stately English and French stock gentlemen still five thousand miles from the place of their breeding; lumbermen and river-drivers, iron bodies set with quick, combative intellects; guides and freighters, hand dealers, gamblers, sharks, and hangers-on were back and forth playing the shuttle and dice, and the fabric of a new nation must be wrought.

Riles debated with himself whether the occasion justified the expenditure of ten cents for a drink when a hand was placed on his shoulder, and a voice said, "Have one with me, neighbor. He found himself addressed by a man of about his age, short and somewhat lighter of frame and with a growing hint of corpulence. The stranger wore a good pepper-and-salt suit, and the stone on his finger danced like real diamonds.

"Don't mind if I do, since you mention it," said Riles, with an attempted smile which his bad eye rendered futile. "I am a bartender, quite unashamed. Well, I don't blame you for keeping your own counsel. The rush of people and money into the West has brought all kinds of floaters in his train. Why—with growing confidence—"The other eight—"

"You'll be looking for land?" inquired the stranger, when both were breathing easily again.

"Well, maybe I am, and maybe I ain't," said Riles guardedly. He had heard something of the ways of confidence men, and was determined not to be taken for an easy mark.

"A man of some judgment, I see," said his new acquaintance, quite unashamed. "Well, I don't blame you for keeping your own counsel. The rush of people and money into the West has brought all kinds of floaters in his train. Why—with growing confidence—"The other eight—"

"That's horseback George," said the man in the pepper-and-salt. "They say he's a clever fellow, but he's right into the bar as a matter of course, and maybe shoots a few bottles off the shelves as a demonstration before he goes out. But he always settles, and nobody minds his peculiarities."

Horseback George treated himself twice, proffering each glass to his horse before touching it himself, and stroking with one hand the animal's ears as he raised the liquor to his lips. Then he threw a bill at the bartender and, with a yell, whoop, slapped the horse's legs with his hat, and dashed at a gallop past the bar-room and away down the trail.

The stranger was about to resume his conversation when a big fellow, who had been standing in a loud voice, "Come, pard, set 'er up. Who's drinkin' now?"

"No one answered, and the big man looked about the crowd with a deepening scowl.

"You're not drinkin'!" he said. "Fill two glasses, pard, and set 'em right there." He turned his back to the bar, and resting his elbows on it, and surveyed the crowd contemptuously, meanwhile chewing a mouthful of tobacco with a rapid, swinging motion of the jaw.

"Guess you fellows don't know who I am," he said. "I'm—"

"No, and don't give a damn," said a lumberjack nearby.

"Well, you will before you're through. You're goin' to drink with me, an' you'll drink with both hands on the glass. Come up an' take your medicine." As he spoke his hand rested on his hip-pocket.

The head bartender poked him in the ribs. "No gun play here," he said. "You're not in Montana now."

"I guess I know where I am," he retorted. "An' what I've think I am a gun for?" "Tell the time by?" This (not printable) is goin' to drink with me, or I'll fix him so's you can see through him both ways." With the words he whipped out a revolver and fired into the floor at the lumberjack's feet, while a considerable part of the crowd stepped back to the door.

"Put up your gun, you certainly unprintable," shouted the lumberjack, throwing his hat on the floor, and I'll crack your slats quicker'n you can count 'em."

"He's right, Pete," said the bartender, addressing the lumberjack. "You can lick him hands down, but that won't pay the bills if you get in the road of a bullet. Now you're turning to the other, 's'ow that artillery an' stop it quick, or I'll call the Mounted Police."

For answer the stranger took a handful of tobacco from his mouth, and with a swing of his arm plastered it over the mirror behind the bar. "That for the Mounted Police," he said. "Now there's goin' to be some drinkin' or some shootin', an' maybe a little of both."

He ploughed the door with another bullet, and the crowd again violently fled. The man in the pepper-and-salt suit had disappeared.

Riles backed into a corner; the man in the weapon, the lumberjack kept his distance, but if epithets could kill his bullying provoker would have been a little more than a mile in with the revolver, on the other hand seemed taking his time, playing with his victim, like a wild beast sure of his prey.

China Wants Chance To Play Her Part In World Advancement

Washington.—Preservation of "territorial integrity and political and administrative independence" together with preservation of the open-door policy and a prohibition against secret treaties in the Far East were included in the Chinese proposals at the Armament Conference on Far Eastern questions.

China in return would agree "not to alienate or lease any portion of her territory" to any foreign power, and all special rights, privileges, immunities or commitments, now held in China by foreign powers are to be carefully re-examined.

All existing limitations upon China's political, jurisdiction and administrative freedom of action would be removed and provision made for future conferences from time to time for international discussion of the far eastern situation.

The Chinese proposals provide for full respect for China's rights as a neutral in all future wars to which the nation is not a party and for peaceful settlement of international disputes "in the Pacific and the far east."

Dr. Wellington Koo, who presented the Chinese proposals, said they were made in the interest of all powers involved in the Far East as well as of China and if adopted would pave the way toward solving some of the perplexing problems in laying a firmer foundation of the Pacific and Far East.

"China is anxious to play her part not only in maintaining peace, but in promoting the material advance."

Factory Explosion

Kills Twelve

Accident in Prussia Forty Miles North of Oppau

Mayence.—Twelve people have been killed and 40 injured in an explosion in a factory at Ditzheim, a short distance from Wiesbaden, Prussia. The damage to the factory is estimated at 25,000 marks.

General Depoutte, commander of the French troops in that district, visited the injured and his men assisted in the rescue work. Steps are being taken by the French to relieve the distress of the survivors. Ditzheim is 40 miles north of Oppau, where an explosion in a plant on September 21, killed 1,000 persons, injured about 4,000 others and laid in waste the entire factory and the village at Oppau.

Britain Denies Soviet Charge

Says Evidence of Bolshevik Propaganda Not Based on Forgeries

London.—The British Government, it was announced, has handed the Soviet Government at Moscow a firmly worded note absolutely denying the allegations of Foreign Minister Chicherin that the British evidence of hostile Bolshevik propaganda in Central Asia and Afghanistan was based on forged documents, German or otherwise. The note declares that the Soviet reply of Sept. 26 to the former note of Lord Curzon, the British foreign minister, apart from the allegations now denied by Lord Curzon consisted chiefly of quibbles regarding positions held by officials and that no attempt was made to answer the very serious charges of Russian hostile propaganda in Persia or Central Asia.

Cattle Shipped From Montreal

Big Revival of Export Trade Is Looked For

Montreal.—A big revival of the Canadian export cattle trade to Great Britain is now to be regarded as certain as far as Montreal port is concerned. Up to date, thirty thousand head of Canadian cattle have been shipped to Britain during the past six months, and with several ships still to be loaded, the thirty-five thousand mark may be reached before the season closes.

Britain Disposing of War Supplies

London.—The government is rapidly disposing of the large amount of war stocks. Surplus stores worth $275,000,000 have been disposed of since the armistice. Liquidation is practically completed on the continent, and it is hoped shortly to close down in Egypt.

Believes No Danger Of Indian Revolution

Detroit, Mich.—Belief that there is no foundation for rumors of an impending revolution in India was expressed by Bishop H. L. Smith, of India, one of the speakers of the National Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Lack of friendship between the Mohammedans and Hindus would tend to prevent such a movement, he said. Bishop Smith declared British control of India must be continued, "if anarchy is to be averted."

British Press Doubts Wisdom Of Proposals Made By Balfour

London.—The modification to the United States disarmament proposals suggested before the conference at Washington by Arthur J. Balfour, head of the British delegation, have met with a varied reception at the hands of the press. The Westminster Gazette says that his statement gives cause for the very gravest misgivings and disappointment, and proceeds to note in particular his suggestion that the programme of battleships replacement be carried on from year to year to save armament works from total destruction.

"The suggested reservation," it says, "amounts to a proposal that we keep alive not only the vested interests of war but the whole spirit and tradition of naval competition as a sacred flame ready to burst into full blaze the moment the holiday is over."

The Daily News says regarding the suggestion that replacement be permitted continuously on a fixed scale: "This seems a dangerous breach of the whole conception of a naval holiday, which might well prove disastrous to the U.S. plan." It believes that the British public would support an absolute embargo on submarines.

The most antagonistic of the morning papers is the Morning Post, which dilates on Great Britain's exceptional position in the need to protect all lines of communication. Britain and her Dominions, it says, must be able to help one another across the oceans unhindered.

The Daily Mail declares that there is everything to be said for Mr. Balfour's suggestions as submarine warfare is most unhuman.

The London Times quoted the Cape Town Times as saying that Secretary Hughes' proposal for a naval holiday marked the most remarkable event since the outbreak of the war.

Bandit Identified By Finger Prints

Believed Responsible For Mail Car Robbery Near Moose Jaw

Phoenix, Ariz.—A bandit captured here at the Santa Fe station, following an attempt to rob a mail car, was identified by finger prints as Roy Gardner, who recently escaped from the federal penitentiary at McNeil's Island.

According to the police, Gardner admitted his identity.

Winnipeg.—Roy Gardner, escaped convict from McNeil's Island penitentiary, reported arrested at Phoenix, Ariz., was credited by railway police with having been responsible for the robbery of an express car on the Canadian Pacific Railway near Moose Jaw on October 19, getting away with $5,000. On September 22 the Canadian National Railway express was held up at Tofield, Alta., several registered packages being stolen. Descriptions of Gardner, received from the Washington penitentiary, tallied with those of the bandit in both cases.

Moose Jaw.—Canadian Pacific investigation authorities here, when notified that Roy Gardner had been arrested, declared they were still convinced that Gardner robbed train No. 4 on the morning of October 19. It was stated Gardner would not likely be brought back to Moose Jaw for trial, as he already had a 30-year sentence ahead of him in the United States.

That Is What You Can Do Provided You Take Advantage of Our Offer

We have made arrangements with the E. H. Heath Co. Limited who publish the CANADIAN POWER FARMER whereby we are able to offer that farm magazine together with our own weekly at the one price for both papers.

The CANADIAN POWER FARMER is Western Canada's biggest farm monthly. It is now in its twentieth year which means that it is thoroughly established throughout the West. It deals with the mechanical side of the farm. Every issue is full of helpful hints and experiences on the operation of all kinds of farm machinery from a washing-machine to a tractor. Its editor has just completed a trip of several months over Western Canada in a motor car for the purpose of studying the mechanical needs of the farmers. He visited the farmers, lived with them and worked with them. The results of his trip will appear during the next twelve months.

This offer may be withdrawn at any time. Without doubt your intention is to renew for this reason, the why not take advantage now. Your subscription to this weekly together with a year's subscription to THE CANADIAN POWER FARMER for the same price as this weekly alone. This is where you make $1.50 on a bushel of wheat.

Mail your cheque or drop into our office the first time you are in town.

Friendship—Yes! But—

"The Bill will not let in Canadian wheat, but will save to the American farmer the right to raise a bushel of wheat instead of transferring that right to Canada."—Mr. Fordney, in introducing the Fordney Emergency Tariff Bill which has shut millions of dollars worth of Canadian foodstuffs out of the United States market.

"If we ever to build up a self-sustaining agriculture here at home, the farmer must be protected from unfair competition from those countries where agriculture is still being exploited."—President Harding. The very spot chosen to deliver this speech—Minnesota—shows that Harding had the Canadian North-West in mind.

WHILE ties of friendship unite Canada and the United States, the attitude of Uncle Sam is that of "Business First", and Canada cannot and should not hope for any consideration from the United States where the interests of the farmers and business people of that country are involved.

Uncle Sam has built the Fordney Tariff directly against Canadian agriculture, and new additional Tariff proposals are now under consideration to shut out from the United States Canadian goods of every kind.

These measures are due to the insistence of the American farmer that the United States market shall be retained exclusively for him and that the influx of Canadian farm products into that country must cease. They are also due to a like insistence of United States manufacturers and workers, who have seen their country develop tremendously and grow rich under a Protective Tariff, and who believe that a still further increase in Tariff is the only means of assuring continued prosperity.

CONTRAST THE ATTITUDE OF THE UNITED STATES LEADERS WITH THAT OF CANADA'S WOULD-BE LEADERS, CRRER AND KING

Conger proposes to allow American goods to enter the Canadian market free of duty.

King proposes that the present reasonable Tariff on the products of the American factory and farm shall be greatly reduced, and that the home market of the Canadian farmer and manufacturer alike shall be thrown open to our Southern neighbour, in the face of the United States Emergency tariff, which practically shuts out Canadian farm products from these markets, and also in the face of the permanent tariff now under consideration at Washington, which gives every promise of being even more drastic than the Emergency Tariff so far as our products are concerned.

In view of the attitude of the United States, but folly it is for Crrer and King to propose growing open the Canadian market to a flood of both agricultural and manufactured products of the United States when there is not the slightest possibility of any compensative advantage to Canada.

Does any sane Canadian believe that Crrer or King, hat in hand, could persuade the United States Government to completely reverse its Tariff policies and agree to reciprocal trade in face of American public demand for a high protective Tariff?

The people of the United States conduct their principle that "Business is business." Why should Canada do otherwise?

Unlike Crrer or King, MEIGHEN stands firm for a reasonable Tariff to protect all our industries—those of the farm, the sea, the mine, the forest, the factory, and for the building up of a bigger and better Canada through the full development of the home market.

FRIENDSHIP WITH THE UNITED STATES? YES, BY ALL MEANS!

BUT—

let us defend our home market, our industries, our farms, our workmen, our homes by the same methods as are used so effectively against us.

Let us work out our own destiny—that of a strong, self-contained nation within the British Empire group of Nations, courageous, masterful, self-reliant.

Real Rest Depends Largely Upon the Depth of Your Sleep

A warning to "light" or "poor" sleepers

The deeper and sounder you sleep the better you feel. Five hours sound refreshing sleep does you more actual good than ten hours restless, disturbed sleep.

This is because the final conversion of food into vital tissue and nerve cells goes on more rapidly when the physical and mental forces are at rest.

You can't get sound, refreshing sleep if your nerves are agitated with tea and coffee. Both these drinks contain caffeine, which is sometimes very irritating to the brain and nervous system.

If you want to know the joy, vigor and stamina that comes to the person who gets sound, healthful sleep, why not stop taking tea or coffee for a while, and drink delicious, invigorating Postum instead.

Thousands of people everywhere have found that this was the only thing they needed in order to bring about these very happy results.

Order Postum from your grocer today. Drink this delightful cereal beverage of satisfying flavor, for a week. Perhaps, like thousands of others, you'll never be willing to go back to tea or coffee.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tin) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water; Postum Cereal (in packages) for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared; made by boiling for 20 minutes.

A Big Radium Deal

Corporation of London Takes Output of Czechoslovak Mines
After prolonged negotiations, Mr. Sidney Kelly, on behalf of the Imperial and Foreign Corporation of London, has signed an agreement with the Czechoslovak Government for a monopoly of the entire output of radium from the Czechoslovak States mines.

The basis of the contract is that the radium mines remain the property of Czechoslovakia, but will be farmed out to the corporation for a number of years. This event is of great importance, because Czechoslovakia possesses practically the only radium mines in Europe. The present market price of radium is £25,000 (sterling) per gramme.—The London Times.

WOULD NOT BE WITHO' T BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Mrs. W. Beesley, Millie Roche, Ont., writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for the past eight months and would not be without them. I highly recommend them to all mothers and my baby is cutting his teeth without any trouble whatever. I can highly recommend the Tablets to other mothers." What Mrs. Beesley says thousands of other mothers say. The Tablets are mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach, thus driving out constipation and in digestion and making teething easy. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Coollies' Power of Endurance

Can Carry Heavy Loads Over Long Distances

According to an Indian traveller immense weights can be carried by coolies of the Himalayas, where the Mount Everest climbers are now. This traveller says he has known personally plenty of instances where coolies, carrying merchandise in places where no wheeled transport is possible, have borne loads up to 200 pounds day after day over rough roads, through steep hills and valleys; and it is a common thing for coolies to carry a ten-cent weighing 100 pounds for distances of six miles up a long ascent of over 3,000 feet.

Miller's Worm Powders are a pleasant medicine for worms in children, and they will take it without objection. When directions are followed it will not injure the most delicate child, as there is nothing of an injurious nature in its composition. They will speedily rid a child of worms and restore the health of the little sufferers whose vitality has become impaired by the attacks of these internal pests.

Seeks Loan For Sinn Feiners
Rev. Michael O'Flanagan, vice-president of the Sinn Fein, was enthusiastically greeted by Sinn Fein adherents at New York recently. One of the objects of his visit to the United States, he said, was to assist in floating a $20,000,000 loan for the "Irish Republic."

The Modish Black Dress for Afternoon

By Marie Belmont

The black dress is still in high favor, although sometimes one may glimpse a touch of brilliant color in its sleeves, the lining of the ash or some other detail. This dress is fabricated from a rather heavy black crepe combined with black chiffon velvet. The latter is chosen for the development of the long-waisted and rather snug-fitting bodice. This is lavishly embroidered in jet. A band of the crepe outlines the neck opening, while the deep loose cuffs are also made of black crepe. This same decoration appears about the lower edges of the skirt.

The Two Turkeys

An honest farmer once led his two turkeys in to his granary and told them to eat, drink and be merry. One of the turkeys was wise and one foolish. The foolish at once indulged excessively in the pleasures of the stable, suspicious of the future, but the wiser fowl, in order that he would not be fattened and slaughtered, fasted continually, mortified his flesh and evoked himself to gloomy reflections upon his brevity of life. When Thanksgiving approached the honest farmer killed both turkeys, and by placing a rock in the interior of the prudent turkey made him weigh more than his plumper brother.

Cayuses for the West Indies.

Some more Alberta horses may soon be going to the West Indies, following up the experiment made during the past summer by the provincial department of Agriculture.

F. D. Bowlen of Edmonton will ship a trial lot of horses this fall or winter. He has some 700 horses on his ranch, and of these he will ship about 100, making up five carloads if satisfactory arrangements can be made. Taking advantage of the experiment gained in the government's initial shipment, he believes that he can effect a considerable saving in transportation costs.

On the Baseline.

A Clever Auto Salesman

Modern automobile thieves are not only daring, but resourceful. One of them in Dallas, Texas, hired an attorney to get him off a charge of stealing automobiles; a d was unable to pay the lawyer's fee of $400.

Upon being pressed he promised to pay immediately and left the lawyer's office. The lawyer's automobile was standing in front of the building and his client drove it to the fair grounds, where he sold it for $600 in cash.

To celebrate the transaction he offered to take the purchaser to dinner. After ordering a big meal at the restaurant the thief pretended to be ill, walked out of the back door, slipped up the alley and again stole the car standing in front of the restaurant.

He drove it back to the attorney's office, leaving it just as it had stood, paid the attorney his $400 and was $200 ahead on the transaction.

The lawyer himself did not know what had happened to his car until latter.
